To whom it may concern:

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Chris Troutner. Chris is a bright young man who works very hard to succeed. I am a new counselor at Clackamas High School but have enjoyed getting to know Chris in these past few months. He is conscientious, thorough, and consistent. Probably the most distinguishing quality that Chris Troutner exhibits both in and out of the classroom is a personal commitment to excellence and a determined work ethic that sustains the pursuit of his goals.

Chris's academic passions lie in the areas of computer programming and network services. He has taken full advantage of our top-rated computer programs at the Sabin Skills Center which is our technology campus. Among the computer training courses Chris has completed are Q Basic, TrueBasic, Visual Basic, C, LPC and Pearl. He demonstrates exceptional analytic and synthetic abilities. Chris does an accurate and thorough job on classwork and is particularly successful in group activities that require interaction with others and successful individual performance.

Chris has chosen to graduate at the end of his junior year at Clackamas High School. Chris's organization and his maturity make him an excellent candidate to start college next year. Whatever his choice of a career, this young man will make a difference - on a college campus, in a community or wherever he decides to channel his energy and drive. He will be involved, a positive influence to all he meets, and will give as much as he receives. He is well liked and is enjoyable to be around.

I give my sincere recommendation that Chris Troutner is a worthy and deserving candidate for your institution. I know he will achieve greatly and be a credit to the college he chooses to attend.

Sincerely,
